

12 file for 2019 Madison, Hanover primary elections

By TALI HUNT

Candidate filings for Madison municipal and Hanover town council elections this year began last week with 12 officially entering the races. Filing opened on Jan. 9. The last day to file to run in the primary election is Feb. 8. Primary election day is May 7. In the race for Madison mayor, three who already had announced their candidacies filed the paperwork. They included:

- Democrat Julie A. Berry, who served on the Jefferson County Commission for three terms and was special projects administrator for Madison in the 1980s.
- Republican Bob Courtney, the immediate past chair of the Jefferson County Republican Party and president of Madison's Board of Zoning Appeals.

- Republican Andrew Forrester, the city's community relations director who serves as the mayor's liaison to community groups and organizations and oversees the city's social media efforts.

Seven candidates filed for the Madison City Council. They included:

Madison City Council District 1

- Republican Mike Pittman, who retired as an executive for Bayer HealthCare and is the owner and operator of PFC Consulting and has served on the Madison Historic District Board of Review.

- Democrat Jan Vetrhus, who was appointed to the District 1 seat in August 2018, was the 2015 Democratic nominee for mayor but lost in the general election to Mayor Damon Welch, and is active in many civic organizations and community undertakings.

District 2

- Democrat Brad Wood III, who is the director of operations and strategic initiatives at River Vally Resources and a 2010 graduate of Indiana Wesleyan University.

District 5

- Democrat Darrell L. Henderson,

the District 5 incumbent, who has served as a representative since 2007 and is also a member of the Board of Public Works and Safety.

At-large

- Democrat David Alcorn, the District 2 councilmember, served as council president through 2018 and is a math teacher at Southwestern Middle School.
- Republican James H. Bartlett. Additional background information could not be obtained for this story.
- Democrat Daniel Dattilo, a councilman at-large incumbent, is a Southwestern High School guidance counselor and has served as a member of the Public Service Video Board.

Madison City Treasurer

- Republican Rick Berry, the City of Madison's treasurer now and who also served as a city council member for two terms from 2008 through 2015.

Hanover Town Council District 2

- Democrat Kathi Scroggins, an incumbent on the Hanover Town Council, is a graduate of Southwestern High School and a Jefferson County employee.

We escaped heavy snow; but get ready for the cold

By TRENTON SCROGGINS

With snow nearly entirely gone across the Courierarea, it is clear Madison dodged a bullet over the weekend, but residents need to brace for the cold air settling in for a few days. Expect temperature drops this week, the National Weather Service predictions say, with the lowest prediction being 19 degrees tonight after a high near 31 for the day. Tuesday is predicted to be partly sunny, with high near 34, and a low of 29. Wednesday is expected to be partly sunny again, with the high climbing to near 40, and a low dipping to 30. A chance of rain and snow before 8 a.m. moves in Thursday, then a chance of rain, and the chance of precipitation at 50% with the high near 42 and the low at 36. Friday is expected to reach a high near 44 with a 40% chance of rain and a low of 30. Snow is predicted to return by Saturday, but how much is unclear now.

The Indianapolis Star reported that this weekend's snowstorm left much of the state with upward of four to six inches, a factor in the more than 100 wrecks reported throughout central Indiana, including at least five fatalities. The National Weather Service predicted the Courierarea could have seen more than six inches of accumulated snow over the weekend. No official statistics were available for the area, but The Madison Courier found estimates in the one-inch-plus range. Weatherunderground.com, an online weather reporting and monitoring site, reported Liberty and Versailles, Indiana, received 10 inches; Ball State University in Muncie, 8.3 inches; and the Indianapolis area, 6.9 inches. Weather Underground also reported 8.7 inches at Northern Kentucky International Airport in Covington and 2.1 inches in the Louisville and Lexington areas. Though the area's roads may be safe to travel, caution is advised when driving very far because Courierarea surrounding areas still are dealing with heavy snow accumulation. Both the Indiana and Kentucky Departments of Transportation advised drivers to slow down, use caution when driving on slick road conditions, particularly with snow accumulation and freezing rain, and to prepare each vehicle with enough supplies to last through an emergency. In a report by the Associated Press, Missouri State Police have asked drivers to do three things, "Have your cellphone fully charged, wear your seat belt and slow your speed for the conditions."

Environmental activist to talk at Hanover

By PEGGY VLEREBOME
Special to the Courier

John Blair, whose advocacy pitted him against the coal-burning Clifty Creek power plant in Madison for years, will speak at Hanover College on Tuesday about the need for the region to transition from coal to clean energy. Blair, an environmental and public health activist for 42 years, will speak at 4 p.m. Tuesday in room 137 of the Science Center. His speech is free and open to the public. It is the first address this year sponsored by the Hanover College Class of 1965 Endowed Lectureship Series. The college's Environmental Stewardship Committee will be the host.

John Blair

Blair, a native of Winchester who lives in Evansville, co-founded Valley Watch 38 years ago to advocate for clean air and water in the lower Ohio River Valley between Louisville and Paducah, Kentucky. Save the Valley, which was incorporated in Kentucky and based in Madison, advocated for the environment between Louisville and Lawrenceburg, Indiana. The two groups joined forces for some battles, such as opposing the Marble Hill nuclear power plant, which never was finished, and multiple state permits from the Indiana Department of Environmental Management for the Clifty Creek power plant in 2003. "It's a shame that we didn't win with IDEM in 2003 because we would have shut that plant down," Blair said. It was one of only a few losses for Valley Watch, said Blair, who is president of the organization and editor of valleywatch.net. "Thirty-seven to four is our record. We've done it on less than $10,000 a year. I don't know if there is any other organization in the United States that has as good a record as we do or any organization in the United States that has done it at that cost." In addition to health and environmental dangers, Valley Watch looks into potential economic harm from projects it opposes. Examples can include a polluting facility driving other businesses away or complicated financing of a facility that might be obsolete before debts are paid. Getting away from using coal to make electricity is key for the environment, public health and economies of the region, Blair said. Part of his message Tuesday, he said, will be to "attack the states of Indiana and Kentucky." "We're setting ourselves up in both states to be behind the curve," he said. Advocacy for the environment, the public's health and local economies through Valley Watch is Blair's avocation. His vocation is photojournalism including news and commercial photography. He won a Pulitzer Prize in 1978 while working for United Press International for a picture of Indianapolis resident Tony Kirtsis holding his mortgage broker hostage at gunpoint. Photojournalism is not where Blair started his professional life. With a bachelor's degree in business/economics and public policy from Indiana University, he was a mortgage banker for several years. One of the offices where he worked had a camera, so he started using it and discovered that he loved photography. He got a master's degree in journalism at Ball State University. He has taught photojournalism at the University of Evansville and photography at the University of Southern Indiana. He was drawn to advocacy journalism, which is writing and photography with a viewpoint. He had long had viewpoints, and they got him in trouble at a couple of jobs in his previous career. The last time he was fired, he left the office in Indianapolis and drove around for a while. "I parked on Market Street and looked at the Statehouse a few minutes," he said. "I had an epiphany: I get fired because I speak my mind — I'm going to say something that's on my mind. That was in early '73. I've lived up to that since then. I try to speak truth."

Pollinator meetings set

The Jefferson County Pollinator Action Group meeting Thursday will be from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. in room 2010 at Ivy Tech Community College. The next two meetings also will be on Thursdays, Feb. 21 and March 21, at the same time and location. The meetings are open to anyone interested in planting habitats for pollinators such as butterflies on their own property or in public places that the group is arranging. There is no fee to belong to the group.

Gathering tonight on Madison survey

The results of a recent downtown market survey will be revealed tonight at a public meeting at the Red Bicycle Hall at 6:30 p.m. An online survey in December gathered responses from area residents to questions about Madison's downtown. Victoria Perry, executive director of Madison Main Street, said the meeting will also be a chance to "explore observations and recommendations from an experienced downtown consultant familiar with the needs of rural communities." The meeting will be led by National Main Street Center Program Officer Kathy LaPlante. "Seven Indiana Main Street communities were selected to participate in these workshops," said Jodi Golden, executive director of Indiana's community and rural affairs office. "Our goal is to help communities develop a comprehensive set of market strategies to guide their efforts for the next three to five years." "We would love for people to come on Monday night," said Perry. "This is everyone's opportunity to create a vibrant downtown and maintain a vibrant downtown...it takes more than just those on Main Street so it would be great for people from all of downtown to participate." Doors will open at 6 p.m. A cash bar and dessert table will be available. For info, contact Victoria Perry at madisonmainstreetprogram@gmail.com or 812-274-0195.

South Bend replacing problem school bus cameras

Indiana

SOUTH BEND — The South Bend school district is buying new cameras to try to help police catch drivers who fail to stop for buses. The South Bend district put cameras on 52 buses in 2017, but the video wasn't effective, partly because of its low resolution. The South Bend Tribune reported the district is buying new cameras for 209 buses. The video has higher resolution and should be more valuable for law enforcement agencies. Indiana school districts have been talking about adding cameras to buses since three children were fatally struck in October while crossing a northern Indiana highway to get to their bus.

Monument, theater park centerpiece plan

INDIANAPOLIS — A limestone monument to a mayor will be restored and become the centerpiece of an amphitheater that could bring new life to a city park. A $9.2 million Lilly Endowment grant will help pay for the restoration of the Thomas Taggart Memorial at Riverside Park. The Indianapolis Business Journal reported. Taggart was the city's mayor from 1895 to 1901. He was a supporter of parks and established the 862-acre Riverside Park. He was also a U.S. senator and chairman of the Democratic National Committee. The memorial was created in 1931. The monument will be incorporated into a planned amphitheater, which will become the home stage for the Indianapolis Shakespeare Company and a venue for concerts and other events. The Indianapolis Parks Foundation, the Indianapolis Shakespeare Company, Indy Parks and Recreation, and Indiana Landmarks are working together on the project. The amphitheater is part of a 20-year plan for the park. The amphitheater is scheduled to open by June 2020.

104-acre gift to Cass County park

LOGANSFORT — A sprawling park near the Wabash River will grow by 104 acres. Cass County officials on Friday acquired 104 acres of donated land just southwest of France Park, which spans 550 acres and offers swimming, camping, trails, disc golf and other activities. Jim Sailors, president of the Cass County Commissioners, tells the Pharos-Tribune that a family that previously owned the land turned it into a conservation area that was managed by NICHES Land Trust in Lafayette. Sailors said the county's goal is to expand France Park, just west of Logansport. The land offers

59 years for spouse in wife's fatal shooting

EVANSVILLE — A man who pleaded guilty to fatally shooting his wife during an argument outside their home has been sentenced to 59 years in prison. Charles Herron, 38, pleaded guilty but mentally ill to murder last month in the August 2017 killing of Amber Herron, 33, who was fatally shot during an argument inside a car parked outside the couple's home. The Evansville Courier & Press reported that several of Amber Herron's relatives wept as they testified Friday about her warmth and kindness. Her stepfather, Bradley Eden Sr., told Charles Herron that, "We're very angry, Charles, but we forgive you. Because that's what Amber would want." Amber Herron worked at an Evansville homeless shelter. Her stepmother, Anita Adams, testified that she had a "rare gift of making everyone feel important."

Guilty plea in chase before officer's death

FORT WAYNE — A man who led Fort Wayne police on a foot chase that preceded an officer's death has pleaded guilty to resisting police and other charges. Patrick A. Faiers, 49, will serve three years in prison under his plea agreement. He pleaded guilty Friday to felony burglary, resisting police and driving after a lifetime suspension of his license. The Journal Gazette reported that Officer David A. Tinsley, 50, helped chase down Faiers Sept. 10 after the suspect crashed a vehicle that was reported stolen. Tinsley, his police dog and an officer in training searched on foot before Faiers was arrested in a wooded area. Tinsley collapsed after Faiers was captured. He died later at a hospital. An autopsy found that the 16-year Fort Wayne police veteran had died of cardiovascular disease.

Drain divides industrial park plan

NEW CARLISLE — Developers have proposed moving a ditch that divides the site of a massive new industrial park in northern Indiana, despite objections from farmers who warn the move could flood their land. St. Joseph County officials say four businesses have already expressed interest in moving to the proposed Indiana Enterprise Center, a 22,000-acre site near New Carlisle, the South Bend Tribune reported. But a 2.5-mile portion of the Niespodziany Ditch that passes through the land would need to be relocated to free up about 2,000 acres for the project. The ditch acts as drainage for several local farms and businesses. Randy Matthys and other local farmers have raised concerns that moving the ditch will cause flooding. Bill Schalliol, the county's economic development director, said it's important to relocate the ditch because businesses want to be assured that it won't interrupt the project space.

Stinesville buys old school for a dollar

STINESVILLE — A tiny town that purchased a former elementary school for $1 plans to turn the building into a hub for the rural community. The Stinesville Town Council voted Tuesday night to purchase the former Stinesville Elementary School, about 15 miles northwest of Bloomington. The (Bloomington) Herald-Times reported that the hilltop school, which overlooks the Monroe County community of about 200 residents, has been a town fixture since the 1920s. The Richland-Bean Blossom Community School Corp. closed the school last year after years of dwindling student enrollment. A citizens committee will be formed to draft proposals for the building's reuse and pursue grant money.

Crews begin razing coal-fired power plant

CENTERTON — Crews have begun demolishing an old coal-fired power plant that was shuttered three years ago. Indianapolis Power & Light Co. had operated four coal-powered units at its Eagle Valley Generating Station until 2016. IPL spokesman Fred Mills says crews began decommissioning those old units in early January at the site about five miles north of Martinsville. Mills tells The Herald-Times the demolition work will continue until mid-year, and three towering brick smokestacks will be the last to come down. Environmental remediation will be needed to address the plant's legacy of burning coal since the 1940s. That work will include working with state regulators to clean up the plant's coal ash pond. IPL completed work last year on a new natural gas-powered plant at the Eagle Valley site.

Tow operator pleads guilty to bribing mayor

HAMMOND — A towing operator has pleaded guilty to a federal bribery charge alleging he paid a mayor $12,000 for a towing contract. John Cortina, 79, of Kustom Auto Body in Portage entered the plea Friday, three days before the public corruption trial of Republican Portage Mayor James Snyder is set to begin. Cortina is to be sentenced April 22. In a plea agreement filed Thursday, Cortina said he knew the $12,000 payment to Snyder in 2016 was a bribe in exchange for getting a towing contract. One of Snyder's defense attorneys, Jayna Caccioppo, said in a statement Friday that her client "never solicited or accepted any bribes from anyone at any time." Snyder was elected in 2015 to his second term as mayor of the Porter County city.

Kentucky

Bevin to highlight Ohio GOP dinner

CINCINNATI — An Ohio Republican party is featuring neighboring Kentucky's governor at an annual dinner. The Hamilton County GOP has announced that Kentucky Gov. Matt Bevin will speak March 14 at its Lincoln-Reagan dinner at Cincinnati's Music Hall. Details will be made public later. The conservative Republican governor announced last August he would seek a second term this year. His approval ratings have fallen amid an unsuccessful attempt to overhaul Kentucky's struggling public pension system over strong opposition from teachers. Democrats vying for their party's nomination in a primary this May include Attorney General Andy Beshear, former state Auditor Adam Edelen, and state House Democratic leader Rocky Adkins. State Rep. Robert Goforth says he will challenge Bevin for the Republican nomination.

Bevin says he can work with Ohio to fix bridge

COVINGTON — Gov. Matt Bevin says he can work with Ohio's incoming governor on a solution to fix a 57-year-old bridge the federal government has labeled obsolete. The Cincinnati Enquirer reports Bevin told news outlets Thursday that he's confident he and Gov.-elect Mike DeWine can find a plan for the Brent Spence Bridge. Bevin says a solution will likely involve tolls. He says the federal government won't pay for more than one-third of the $2.5 billion project. The bridge over the Ohio River between Covington, Kentucky, and Cincinnati has been the region's top transportation issue for decades. It carries more than double the vehicle traffic it was designed for. The newspaper reports Bevin's comments made it seem that he and Gov. John Kasich didn't have much of a working relationship.

Vigil for Michigan family dead in wreck

NORTHVILLE — Relatives

of a Michigan family of five killed in a highway crash in Kentucky remembered their lives during an emotional candlelight vigil. Friday's memorial was at Ford Field Park in Northville, Michigan, and ended with an Islamic prayer with text from the Quran. The Abbas family was returning home from Florida last Sunday when a suspected drunken driver traveling the wrong way struck their vehicle head-on on Interstate 75 in Lexington, Kentucky. The crash killed 42-year-old Issam Abbas, 38-year-old Rima Abbas, 14-year-old Ali Abbas, 13-year-old Isabella Abbas, and 7-year-old Giselle Abbas. The other driver also died.

Fallen officer's family sues over fatal crash

LOUISVILLE — The family of a fallen Louisville Metro police officer is suing the city's sewer district and the ex-employee charged with crashing his semitruck into the officer's cruiser during a traffic stop, killing her. The Courier Journal reported that the suit by Detective Deidre "Dee Dee" Mengedocht's family accuses driver Roger Burdette of negligence in the crash and accuses the Metropolitan Sewer District of not properly employing, supervising and training him. Burdette has pleaded not guilty to charges of murder and driving under the influence in the crash last month. An arrest report says he admitted to taking multiple prescription drugs and "made no attempt to avoid collision with (the) police vehicle." Sewer district spokeswoman Sheryl Lauder says Burdette has been fired. She said the district won't comment on the lawsuit.

Cold shoulder after divorce of parents

Editor's Note: Annie Lane is off this week. The following column was originally published in October 2016.

Dear Annie: I recently went on vacation with my mom, stepdad and siblings. We went to the river where my stepdad has been going for about 30 years. Everyone else in the community has been going there every year for just as long, if not longer. Now, my mom and stepdad met each other while they were married, and, well, you can put the rest together. Many families we know have taken sides ever since, so being the daughter, I'm no stranger to weird vibes in social situations and people choosing sides.

Upon meeting the rivergoers, I quickly realized that some of them were on my stepdad's ex-wife's side. How did I know? They avoided talking to us and didn't invite us to partake in group watersport activities. In one case, after I introduced myself, the woman looked at me, scoffed and walked away. There were plenty of nice people, though, so we still had a great time.

This isn't something I take

personally. The situation has nothing to do with me, and the affair happened six years ago. If they're getting all hung up about something that's not even their business, that's their problem. But I never know whether I should stand up for myself, kill them with kindness or just ignore them. What do you think? — Boating With Baggage

Dear Boating: It sounds as if you're expert at navigating these treacherous rapids, so kudos. It's incredibly mature of you not to take the antics of your stepdad's ex-wife's friends personally. The bitterness and resentment they're holding on to is only dragging them down.

Continue being pleasant in the face of their ugly attitudes. Pretend you're oblivious to their bad vibes. They can scoff until they're blue in the face. But don't be a doormat, either.

If one of them says something outright rude to you, you have a right to stand up for yourself.

Dear Annie: What is the etiquette concerning who pays for a date these days? I am realizing I may be a bit old-fashioned, as I still think that a man should pick up the check at least the first few times he goes out with someone. I've been on three dates with a guy recently, and we've split it every time.

For our first date, he picked out an expensive restaurant that I would never normally go to, as it's way out of my price range. I assumed he would only invite me to such an expensive place if he planned on covering the bill.

Before I was seeing him, I dated a man for about six months, and we always split everything, too. If I didn't have cash on me, he expected me to pay him back later.

I work full time and can support myself, and I don't need or expect anyone to spoil me. But I still appreciate small gestures of chivalry. Am I out of step with the times? — Halfsies

Dear Halfsies: A good rule, widely used today, is that the person who does the asking does the paying — at least on the first date. So, if this man asked you out, it would be courteous of him to pay, and vice versa.

After the first date, going Dutch is commonplace. But there's nothing wrong with treating your significant other to dinner occasionally, just as a nice gesture, regardless of gender.

DAILY HOROSCOPES

Tuesday, January 15, 2019

Make this a year to remember. Put the past behind you and focus on what's really important to you. Take a new and different approach to how you earn your living and use your downtime. If you make this a year of giving, you will receive high returns.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Address issues that have been plaguing your relationship with a loved one or close friend. Share your thoughts and feelings openly, and find out where you stand. If change is required, make it happen.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) — Problems will arise if you haven't stuck to the rules or neglected to file something before the end of the year. Don't wait; address what's gone wrong and move forward.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Be a leader, not a follower. Don't let uncertainty lead to a mistake. Trust your judgment and choose your associates based on their integrity and compassion.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — Take care of personal business and look for opportunities that will open your mind to alternative ideas. How you process and express what you experience will encourage interesting changes.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — If you speak from the heart, you will gain respect and grab the attention of someone who can make a difference in your life. A chance to do something to help others could prove rewarding.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — When opportunity knocks, open the door. Don't hesitate to take advantage of a chance to do something new or meet someone special. Embrace the future and do your best to make things happen.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — A unique approach to how you do your job and handle associates will make a difference. Trust in your ability to persuade others to do things your way.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — Put greater emphasis on being your best. Live a healthy lifestyle, get fit and eat nutritiously. A change for the better will lead to success and a better future.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Pay attention to others, listen carefully and respond with interest. How you react to people will pave the way for new opportunities. Don't let a personal matter hold you back.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) — You may crave change, but someone is likely to stifle your pursuits. Question the motive behind someone's actions, and proceed with the changes that will make you happy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — If you share your thoughts, you'll get the feedback you need to confirm that you are making the right choices. Don't let someone from your past disrupt your life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) — Take action and make changes at home that will ease your stress and add to your comfort. An alteration will give you the courage to try something new. Romance is highlighted.

RUNNER'S ASTHMA TRIGGERED BY NOTICEABLE EXERTION

Dear Doctor: I've noticed that after running, especially when I've really pushed myself, I'll cough for a while. A friend says it's something called exercise-induced asthma. Why is it happening?

Dear Reader: Your symptoms are in line with something known as exercise-induced bronchoconstriction, often referred to as exercise-induced asthma. It usually happens after -- but sometimes during -- exercise that's vigorous enough to significantly increase your heart rate and respiration. In some people, this post-exercise period of coughing is accompanied by additional symptoms like a tight chest, shortness of breath or wheezing. In the majority of cases, these symptoms prove to be temporary and breathing returns to normal.

Asthma is a chronic disease in which the airways to the lungs become narrowed or inflamed, which interferes with breathing. This inflammation often makes people with asthma sensitive to a range of factors, including dust, mold, tobacco smoke, pollen, pet dander, air pollution, chemicals, certain medications, exertion and cold air. Known as triggers, these sensitivities can cause an asthma attack in which the airways become even more inflamed and symptoms worsen. In severe cases, an asthma attack can cause airways to become fully obstructed and can be fatal.

Unlike people with asthma, who have multiple triggers, those with exercise-induced asthma experience symptoms only during or after exertion. Some find that their episodes are associated with exercising in air that is colder or dryer than normal. The same workouts that produce no symptoms in the warmer months may bring on coughing and wheezing when the weather turns cold, or when indoor heating takes the moisture out of the air. In most people, symptoms start five to 20 minutes after beginning to exercise, or five to 10 minutes after exertion has ended, and are short-lived.

Diagnosis of exercise-induced asthma typically begins with a resting lung function test. This is done with a breathing device known as a spirometer, which measures the volume of your inhale, the volume of your exhale and how quickly you expel the air from your lungs. This may be followed by an exercise challenge test, like running on a treadmill, riding a stationary bike or climbing stairs, in order to trigger symptoms. The exercise challenge ends with another spirometry test, which will reveal any changes in lung function.

Other conditions can have symptoms similar to those of exercise-induced asthma. These include allergies, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), obesity, gastro-intestinal reflux, vocal cord dysfunction, congestive heart failure and certain lung diseases. As a result, we think it would be wise to check in with your family doctor about what's happening.

Depending on his or her findings, your doctor may suggest using an asthma inhaler or bronchodilator prior to the start of exercise. Certain behaviors can help as well. Take time to warm up before exercise, as this can help lessen symptoms significantly. Infection plays a role in asthma symptoms, so don't exercise when you're sick. If you have allergies, take note of pollen counts. Keep tabs on symptoms and, if they get worse, see your doctor. The good news is that with proper management, people with exercise-induced asthma can safely stay active.

Many yuans given for great bridge

By Phillip Alder

For the first time ever, the annual International Bridge Press Association award winners received big bucks — or, more accurately, big yuans.

The Chinese company Hainan not only paid good prize money, but the players and journalists also went — all expenses paid — to compete in the Hainan Bridge Festival at the Mangrove Tree Resort World in Sanya last October. There were four prizes of 50,000 yuans (nearly $7,300) and one (for the junior winner) of 25,000 yuans, with 30 percent of each amount going to the reporting journalist. The awards ceremony was broadcast live on television.

This week, let's look at some of the deals that did not get enough votes from the IBPA jury. This one was declared by Jan Hugo Lie and described by Knut Kjærnsrød, both from Norway.

In four spades, Lie won with his diamond ace and led a heart. West took the trick and returned his second heart. Declarer played a spade to his jack, which held, cashed his spade ace (getting the bad news) and continued with another spade. West won (the second defensive trick) and had to lead from his spade nine and all six clubs. What should he have done?

West should have led a low club. Declarer could not have taken the trick, drawn the last trump and cashed dummy's hearts for diamond discards.

However, West exited with his trump. What happened there?

Lie found a great resource — he let West take the trick! Now West had to play a club, allowing declarer into the dummy with the club queen and giving access to those three top hearts.

1.5 lbs. of meth, 3 firearms recovered from Columbus home

Courier staff report

Seven suspects were arrested on drug-related charges in Columbus last week.

Six were taken into custody from the 100 block of South Mapleton Street and another was arrested during a traffic stop.

Investigators from the Bartholomew County Joint Narcotics Enforcement Team along with officers of the Columbus Police Department, Bartholomew County Sheriff’s Department, Indiana State Police, United States Postal Service, the Drug Enforcement Administration, as well as the Bureau of Alcohol Tobacco and Firearms, served a search warrant Wednesday night in Columbus. The search warrant was a result of an ongoing investigation into illegal narcotic sales in Columbus and Bartholomew County.

During a search of the home, officers recovered 1.5 pounds of methamphetamine with a street value of more than $30,000 along with three firearms, said a news release from the Bartholomew County Sheriff’s Department. The six individuals arrested on South

Mapleton and their charges are:

- David Oswaldo Cornejo, 41, of Columbus, faces charges of felony dealing in methamphetamine, felony possession of methamphetamine and felony maintaining a common nuisance.
- Fernando Lopez-Mendez 37, of Columbus, faces charges of felony dealing in methamphetamine, felony possession of methamphetamine and maintaining a common nuisance.
- Mirna Benitez-Paz, 42, of Columbus, faces a charge of felony maintaining a common nuisance.

- Isabel Benitez-Paz, 38, of Columbus faces a charge of felony maintaining a common nuisance.
- Michell Vasquez Benitez, 19, of Columbus faces a charge of visiting a common nuisance.
- Rogelio Moreno Benitez, 19, of Columbus faces a charge of visiting a common nuisance.

On Tuesday evening before serving the search warrant, officers from the Columbus Police Department and Bartholomew County Sheriff’s Department stopped a vehicle in Columbus that reportedly contained one-quarter pound of methamphetamine, the news release said.

Officers arrested Frederico E. Reyes, 39, of Columbus. He faces a charge of felony possession of methamphetamine.

Vasquez Benitez and Moreno Benitez are no longer in custody, but the other four arrested at the house remain in custody either in Bartholomew or Clay counties. Information on whether Reyes is still in custody could not be obtained.

The investigation into the sale of illegal drugs in Columbus and Bartholomew County continues.

“This is another example of exceptional work that occurs when multiple agencies work together,” said Bartholomew County Sheriff Matthew A. Myers. “Great job by all involved.”

The Joint Narcotics Enforcement Team, a combined unit of the Bartholomew County Sheriff’s Office, the Columbus Police Department and the Bartholomew County Prosecutor’s Office, is proactively targeting the manufacturing and abuse of dangerous drugs in Columbus and Bartholomew County.

2 arrested on drug charges at Seymour hotel; meth seized

Courier staff report

The Indiana State Police-Versailles All Crimes Policing Team served a search warrant last week at a Seymour hotel room that led to two arrests and the seizure of suspected methamphetamine, Indiana State Police reported.

The investigation began when troopers received information that drug activity was taking place at a room at the Allstate Inn.

Michael W. Bowling, 39, tried to flee on foot when the officers went to the hotel around 10 p.m. Wednesday. While trying to escape, the news release said, Bowling tore open a baggy containing suspected methamphetamine and attempted to destroy the contents. He was apprehended nearby.

While searching the room at the hotel, troopers found a second man, identified as Christopher M. Dubois II, 35. Dubois was in possession of numerous hypodermic syringes and drug paraphernalia, police said. Additional suspected methamphetamine, syringes and drug paraphernalia were found in the hotel room.

During the investigation, troopers seized about an ounce of suspected methamphetamine, syringes and drug paraphernalia.

Bowling was arrested on charges of dealing methamphetamine (over 10 grams), possession of methamphetamine, possession of hypodermic syringe, obstruction of justice, maintaining a common nuisance, resisting law enforcement and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Dubois was arrested on charges of dealing methamphetamine, possession of methamphetamine, possession of hypodermic syringe and visiting a common nuisance.

Both men were still in custody Sunday evening at the Jackson County Jail.

Dearborn County officer-involved shooting investigated

Courier staff report

SUNMAN — A disturbance call to Five Point Road in Dearborn County on Saturday morning resulted in the death of one man.

Indiana State Police reported that at about 10:50 a.m. Saturday, officers from the Indiana State Police and Dearborn County Sheriff’s Department responded to a disturbance, reported to involve a man armed with a firearm at 12300 Five Point Road in northern Dearborn County.

A news release from the state police said that “when the deputy and trooper arrived and started to approach the residence, they were confronted by a man who pointed a firearm at the officers. This resulted in both officers firing their weapons at the suspect.”

The suspect was struck by at least one of the officers’ rounds, according to the news release. Police said the officers were able to give immediate first aid to the suspect and he was taken to Margaret Mary Hospital in Batesville for medical treatment. None of the officers was injured in the incident. After arriving at the hospital, the suspect was pronounced dead.

Let Us Pause to Honor the Memory of

Mrs. Bettie Lee Smith Cline

Mrs. Bettie Lee Smith Cline, age 75, of Deputy, Indiana entered this life on May 11, 1943 in Louisville, Kentucky. She was the loving daughter of the late Eugene and Ruth Godchaux Smith. She spent her early years in Carrollton, Kentucky and moved with her family to Deputy in 1960 and was a 1961 graduate of Deputy High School. Bettie was selected Miss Jefferson County of the Jefferson County 4-H Fair early in life. She was employed with Nay's General Store in Deputy as a clerk and with Reliance Electric working in the office for several years. In 1971 she began working as a clerk for the Deputy Post Office and in 1982 she became the postmaster, retiring in 2001 after 30 years of service. On April 28, 1984 Bettie was united in marriage to David L. Cline in Deputy, Indiana. She was a faithful member of the Deputy United Methodist Church as long as her health permitted. She had served as treasurer of the Pisgah Cemetery Association and on the scholarship committee for the Deputy Alumni Association. After retirement she and Dave enjoyed wintering in Fort Myers, Florida. Bettie loved to quilt, sew, bake, travel and oil paint. She was a talented artist, devoted wife, loving mother, grandma and a very proud great grandma. Bettie died on Thursday, January 10, 2019, at 4:00 p.m. at her home in Deputy, Indiana.

Reds, Puig reach $9.7M deal

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds avoided arbitration with Yasiel Puig, agreeing with the newly acquired outfielder on a $9.7 million contract for 2019.

The Reds also reached deals Friday with right-handers Tanner Roark ($10 million), Anthony DeSclafani ($2,125,000) and Michael Lorenzen ($1.95 million), second baseman Scooter Gennett ($9,775,000) and shortstop Jose Peraza ($2,775,000).

Left-hander Alex Wood is Cincinnati's only arbitration-eligible player without a deal. He asked for a raise from $6 million to $9.65 million, and the team offered $8.7 million.

The Reds acquired Puig and Wood last month in a trade with the Los Angeles Dodgers. Cincinnati got Roark in a deal with Washington.

Puig hit .267 with 23 home runs and 63 RBIs last season.

Sycamores edge Aces in OT

EVANSVILLE (AP) — Christian Williams finished with 18 points and eight rebounds and Jordan Barnes scored six of his 11 points in overtime to send Indiana State to a 72-66 victory over Evansville on Saturday.

Both teams took turns with the lead down the stretch and the Sycamores (10-6, 2-2 Missouri Valley Conference) made it a two-possession game when Allante Holston sank two free throws with 18 seconds left. But Shea Feehan nailed a 3-pointer from 5 feet beyond the 3-point arc to pull the Purple Aces (8-9, 2-2) within 60-59 with 13 seconds left. Barnes made 1 of 2 free throws, but Feehan scored on a layup with five seconds left to send it to overtime.

Barnes, Williams and Key all had buckets in a 6-2 run to open OT and the Sycamores stayed in front from there. Key finished with 16 points and reserve Emondre Rickman scored 12.

Feehan was the only Evansville player to reach double figures, scoring 12.

Mastodons lose 1st in Summit

VERMILLION, S.D. (AP) — Stanley Umude scored 26 points and South Dakota handed Purdue Fort Wayne its first Summit League loss with an 87-73 victory on Sunday.

The Coyotes shot 54 percent, including 63 percent in the second half when they overcame a five-point halftime deficit. They scored 14 straight points, 10 from Triston Simpson, over four minutes to lead by 16 with a half-minute left.

South Dakota (8-9, 2-2) played without leading scorer Trey Burch-Manning, who missed his second game with a foot injury.

Matt Weir scored 20 points, making all five his 3-pointers, to lead the Mastodons (12-8, 4-1), who had a six-game win streak snapped.

Judge orders girl reinstated

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — An Alabama judge temporarily reinstated Maori Davenport's eligibility Friday after the high school star had been suspended over what her parents described as a mistake payment from USA Basketball.

Pike County Circuit Judge Sonny Reagan issued an order stopping the Alabama High School Athletic Association from disqualifying Davenport until the court rules on a complaint filed by the teen's parents. It is unclear when the court will rule on the complaint.

Davenport, a senior at Charles Henderson High School in Troy and a Rutgers signee, had been ruled ineligible for her final season by state high school officials after receiving an $857.20 check from USA Basketball, which has been repaid.

The 6-foot-4 Davenport returned to the court Friday night, scoring 25 points in Charles Henderson High School's victory over Carroll.

Last summer, Davenport played for her country at a youth tournament in Mexico City. As it normally does, USA Basketball sent out the modest stipend check to everyone who participated.

Davenport's family deposited the check. Then, some three months later, after learning that the payment was against AHSAA rules, they self-reported the violation and repaid the money to USA Basketball.

Colts hope to build off historic turnaround

By MICHAEL MAROT

AP Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS — The Indianapolis Colts kept insisting Andrew Luck would play better after shoulder surgery.

He did.

Frank Reich acknowledged some of his best work came in a backup role.

Apparently, It still does.

A healthy Luck and an opportunistic first-year coach led the Colts on a historic midseason turnaround, ending with a playoff run and a glimpse into a potentially promising future.

"We left our hearts on the field every game," Luck said Sunday, a day after a 31-13 elimination loss at Kansas City. "I know we all wished we played better yesterday. It's sad.

We wanted this somewhat magical season to continue and we'll use that to motivate us."

That could be bad news for a team that seemed to defy the odds at every turn.

Most figured the Colts hit rock bottom when Josh McDaniels backed out of a deal to become the Colts' new coach while Luck continued to rehab his throwing shoulder in early February. General manager Chris Ballard wasted no time in making Reich, the offensive coordinator for the Super Bowl champion Eagles, his second choice.

The odd sequence included Reich inheriting a defensive coordinator in Matt Eberflus, who he didn't know much about and was already plotting a conversion from a 3-4 front to a 4-3. Reich followed the advice of Ballard by keeping him in the same role and adding two more first-year coordinators to his staff.

To outsiders, it looked like a complete rebuild.

But the Colts never bought into the perception and delivered the kind of season nobody thought possible when they lost their fourth in a row in mid-October.

That's when things changed.

Luck rounded into form, the Colts developed a balanced attack, their revamped offensive line became a virtual fortress and the oft-criticized defense suddenly emerged as one of Shawe Memorial hit its offensive stride in the second half and shot better than 60 percent to power the Hilltoppers to a 68-60 win over Columbus Christian in boys basketball on a snowy Saturday evening at Meny Gym.

The Hilltoppers struggled mightily in the first half and the result was a tie game at halftime. But a strong defensive effort led to better offense in the second half and the result was Shawe's first win since Dec. 1 after seven-straight losses.

"We've said since the beginning that it's not about the wins and losses, it's about the process and if you get the process right, the wins will take care of themselves," Shawe coach Sherron Wilkerson said. "We've gone through some growing pains and getting a win makes it a little bit sweeter. Tonight we took a step forward and hopefully we can use that as a springboard as we get ready for sectional."

Shawe (3-10) struggled throughout the first half, thanks mainly to two quick fouls picked up by junior center Ethan Stuart in the first three minutes of the game. With the 6-foot-3 Stuart on the bench, the Hilltoppers lacked both the offensive punch and the defensive muscle in the middle to put away Columbus.

Freshman Henry Grote tried to make up for Stuart's absence, hitting four 3-pointers in the first half, but the Hilltoppers still managed only 23 points on 36 percent (8-of-22) shooting.

That all changed in the second half. With Stuart back on the floor, and Shawe's defense forcing turnovers, the league's stingiest units.

The Colts (11-7) won nine of their last 10 regular-season games to become the third team in league history to make the postseason after starting 1-5, followed by a wild-card win at Houston.

"You wonder as a first time head coach, what is this really going to be like? I just couldn't have imagined in my wildest dreams how this year was," Reich said. "The guys in this building, the guys in that locker room, the coaches and players they just exceeded any of my wildest expectations."

Everyone else's, too.

Luck had the best overall season of his career, throwing for nearly 4,600 yards and 39 touchdowns

Cards pound No. 12 UNC

83-62 on road

By AARON BEARD

AP Basketball Writer

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. — Louisville went from suffering a confidence-jarring loss against a long-struggling Atlantic Coast Conference program to handing Roy Williams his worst home loss in 16 seasons with North Carolina.

Tough to explain? Even the Hall of Famer had a hard time with that.

"We never really got into the game," Williams said after Saturday's 83-62 defeat to the Cardinals. "I'd like to give you a brilliant answer as to why, but I can't give you that brilliant answer."

It was as mystifying a performance from No. 12 UNC — which had started league play with two road wins — as it was a strong effort from Louisville following Wednesday's overtime loss to Pittsburgh.

First-year coach Chris Mack said there was "some soul searching" after that setback, which snapped Pitt's 23-game losing streak in ACC regular-season games. The Panthers had lost by 25 points at home to the Tar Heels a few days earlier.

Louisville (11-5, 2-1) responded by strolling into Chapel Hill, jumping on UNC early and turning a 43-34 halftime lead into an unexpected rout.

"I've been around the game enough to know you can be humbled on any given night and then erase a bitter feeling a few nights later," Mack said. "I don't know how football coaches do it, they get one game a week."

Connecticut transfer Steven Enoch had season highs of 17 points and 11 rebounds to lead the Cardinals, causing all kinds of matchup problems with his 6-foot-11 frame and strength to post up deep in the paint. Dwayne Sutton added 17 points, 10 rebounds and seven assists to flirt with a triple double, helping the Cardinals shoot 52 percent while hitting 11 3-pointers.

More importantly, the Cardinals controlled the glass (40-31) against one of the nation's best rebounding teams, keeping the Tar Heels from getting loose in transition (four fast-break points) with solid defense.

"Angry should be the motto for this team — playing angry and aggressive," Enoch said. "That's how it's always been for Louisville basketball."

Kenny Williams scored 12 points for the Tar Heels (12-4, 2-1), who spent most of Saturday looking like a team searching for something — anything — to build around. They shot 35 percent, including 3 of 22 on 3-pointers, and committed 11 second-half turnovers.

BIG PICTURE

The Pitt loss certainly was a low point for Louisville considering the Panthers had lost 25 of 26 games against league teams since February 2017. The Cardinals didn't spend much time sulking, instead hitting their first seven shots with four 3-pointers to quickly set the tone.

"Our locker room was pretty glum, I didn't help the matter when I walked in and got after them," Mack said of the Pitt loss. "I thought their response was pretty good."

"But I said at one point to our coaching staff: 'Hey, we could come in here and play really hard and play really well and play together and still lose. Good teams do that.' ... So yeah, a little surprised, but pleased with our guys' effort and attitude and response from the Pittsburgh game."

BIG MARGIN

Roy Williams' previous worst margin of defeat in Chapel Hill with UNC was 69-53 to rival Duke in March 2013. It was UNC's worst home loss since January 2002, 87-58 to Duke under former coach Matt Doherty.

Gibbs, 49, dies from neurological disease

No. 18 Kentucky outlasts Vandy 56-47 at Rupp

J.D. Gibbs was a co-founder of NASCAR's JGR

HUNTERSVILLE, N.C. (AP) — J.D. Gibbs, eldest son of Pro Football Hall of Fame coach Joe Gibbs, was remembered as the visionary behind the stellar career of several NASCAR stars following his death from complications a long battle with a degenerative neurological disease. He was 49.

Joe Gibbs Racing announced Gibbs' death Saturday. He died Friday.

Gibbs was co-founder of the NASCAR team that bears his fathers' name and he largely ran the day-to-day operations of what is now an elite organization. He stepped away from JGR in 2015 when it was announced he was suffering from "conditions related to brain function." He was president of JGR at the time and is credited with launching the career of Daytona 500 winner Denny Hamlin and spearheading the team's pivotal move to Toyota.

Jason Dean Gibbs was also a staunch supporter of Tony Stewart and Kyle Busch, who won championships for the organization despite numerous skirmishes on and off the track. Stewart, a two-time champion driving for Gibbs, posted a photo from his 2002 title celebration in New York City alongside Gibbs and then-crew chief Greg Zipadelli.

"Heartbroken for the entire Gibbs family," Stewart wrote on social media. "J.D. was a great person — a family man who loved sports & racing in particular. He played a big part in my career, both as a driver & as a team owner. When he J.D.

asked how you were doing, he genuinely cared. I'll miss that the most."

Hamlin, who was found by Gibbs racing short tracks in Virginia, posted a photo sitting next to Gibbs before his 2006 Cup debut. Lurking just over Gibbs' shoulder is Hamlin's father, who told Gibbs that day "He's all yours now."

"I will always be grateful for what his family did for mine and the opportunity he gave me 14 years ago," Hamlin wrote.

Gibbs played defensive back and quarterback at William & Mary from 1987-90 while his father coached the Washington Redskins, a team he led to three Super Bowl titles. He transitioned into NASCAR and the family business when the elder Gibbs launched his NASCAR team in 1992.

Gibbs was eventually co-chairman of JGR, but began with the organization as a part-time driver and over-the-wall crew member. He made 13 NASCAR national series starts between 1998 and 2002.

"We were privileged to watch J.D. Gibbs grow within the sport, displaying an endearing personality, a keen eye for talent and the strong business acumen that helped grow Joe Gibbs Racing into a preeminent NASCAR team," said NASCAR Chairman Jim France. "The NASCAR family has lost a truly special member."

Washington owner Dan Snyder and wife Tanya say they are "heartbroken for the J.D. Gibbs family" and "for anyone who had the honor and privilege to know J.D., he was instantly recognized as a champion in life and sports."

Gibbs is survived by wife Melissa and four sons.

while setting career highs in completions, attempts and percentage. He was sacked a league-low 18 times, one season after the Colts allowed a league-high 56 sacks.

Meanwhile, Marlon Mack fought off injuries to finish with five 100-yard games — the most by a Colts running back in more than a decade.

Eric Ebron finally delivered on the first-round promise the Detroit Lions saw in 2014 by catching 13 touchdowns to lead the league's tight ends and earning his first Pro Bowl selection.

"It was a helluva time, a helluva season," center Ryan Kelly said. "Guys were fighting for each other and it was just a good time."

But Reich's favorite might have been watching the rookies develop.

Quenton Nelson and Braden Smith were rock solid at left guard and right tackle, and linebacker Darius Leonard led the league in tackles with a franchise-record 163. Nelson and Leonard became the first rookie teammates to earn first-team All-Pro honors since Dick Butkus and Gale Sayers achieved the feat in 1965.

Now, with Luck heading into his first healthy offseason in four years, a veteran coach and proven players, Reich knows the expectations will increase next season and he promises to be ready.

"We had an opportunity to learn so many lessons this year," he said. "We lost four or five and then won 10 or 11. So we've had a taste of that. I think handling success and high expectations is always more difficult but I believe in the guys, the players, the leaders to get that done."

NOTES: Kelly wouldn't rule out having surgery on his injured left knee but described the procedure as minor. ... Pro Bowl tight end Jack Doyle said he spent two days in the hospital after suffering a season-ending kidney injury in late-November. Doyle told reporters he was feeling "pretty good," though he's still recovering. ... Kicker Adam Vinatieri hopes to return for his 24th season after missing the shortest field goal of his career on Saturday. He broke the NFL's career scoring record this season and now has 2,600 points. ... Indy signed tight end Billy Brown, cornerback Jalen Collins, offensive linemen Antonio Garcia and De'Ondre Wesley, receivers Krishawn Hogan and Steve Ishmael, quarterback Phillip Walker and defensive linemen DeShawn Williams and Anthony Winbush to futures contracts Sunday.

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Kentucky believes it will figure out how to start games with the focus and resolve it has shown in closing them.

Now would be fine by coach John Calipari after again watching his No. 18 Wildcats having to scrap past Vanderbilt.

Ashton Hagans and Keldon Johnson each scored 15 points and combined to rally Kentucky from another slow start in a 56-47 win over Vanderbilt on Saturday night.

"We've got to figure out how we start games, this is getting ridiculous," the coach said after the Wildcats (12-3, 2-1 Southeastern Conference) had to climb from a second consecutive double-digit hole in the early minutes.

"It's five halves in a row where we just start the game and we're getting smashed."

This time it was Kentucky's initial failure to defend the Commodores' perimeter shooting, which propelled them to a 16-5 lead and 30-28 edge at the break. Vanderbilt was pretty effective inside the arc as well, shooting 11 of 22 overall and hanging in as Kentucky slowly closed the gap.

Johnson and Hagans then took over and combined to score the first seven points of the second half for the Wildcats' first lead at 35-30. Kentucky steadily pulled away for its second consecutive win, despite a season low in points.

"It's just clicking together and not letting up on the defensive end," said Hagans, who made 7 of 9 shots and had four assists and three steals. "As the season goes along, we're going to click on at the beginning of the game and just get it going from there."

Kentucky shot 53 percent after halftime and 50 percent overall, while holding Vanderbilt to just 6 of 25 (24 percent) in the final 20 minutes. Three-point defense was key as the Wildcats allowed just 2 of 14 in the second half.

"We gave up some 3s to guys that usually make shots," Kentucky guard Immanuel Quickley said, "and we had to press up on them, make them drive and I think we did that."

The Wildcats also outrebounded the Commodores 38-21, with Reid Travis' 12 boards leading the way. Quickley's outside shooting also helped as he had 12 points with three 3s for the Wildcats.

Aaron Nesmith had 11 points, while Saben Lee and Joe Toye added nine apiece for Vanderbilt (9-6, 0-3), which shot below 40 percent for the second consecutive game.

"I thought our team made huge strides from our first two conference games," Commodores coach Bryce Drew said. "We moved the ball much, much better and I thought we all played together — much, much better in a tough environment on the road."

JUST SORE, IS ALL

Johnson and Hagans both left the game briefly in the second half with injuries. Johnson banged his right knee on the floor and limped off. Hagans was helped off with a back injury sustaining while falling on another player's foot. Both said they were OK.

POLL IMPLICATIONS

Kentucky should move up a few spots in what figures to be a reshuffled Top 25.

BIG PICTURE

Vanderbilt: Everything started well enough for the Commodores, who started 5 of 11 from long range and seemed to thwart every Kentucky attempt to go ahead in the first half. Poor shooting was only part of their second-half woes, as they struggled to slow Kentucky on offense and couldn't stop the 'Cats on the glass.

"In the first half we controlled the pace," Drew added. "We knew the second half was going to be crucial and they went on that 7-0 run to start and we just couldn't catch up."

Kentucky: Credit the Wildcats for again shaking off a sluggish beginning to finish strong. They owned just about every statistic, but overpowered the Commodores on the board and in the paint (32-16). But it involved another wakeup call, a troubling trend they must avoid the deeper they get into their conference schedule.

Public Notices

through the Rural Housing Service, its Successors and Assigns, United States Department of Agriculture Plaintiff vs. Dewey L. Holman; Deceased; and Heirs-At-Law, Devisees, Legatees, Descendants, Personal Representatives, Executors, Trustees, and Administrators of Dewey L. Holman Defendants

NOTICE OF SUIT

To the defendants named below herein, and any other person who may be concerned. You are notified that you have been sued in the Court named above. The nature of the suit is the foreclosure of a mortgage upon the property located in Jefferson County at 5291 N. State Road 7, Madison, IN, 47250, legally described as:

Tract No. 1: 20 feet of the entire west side of Lot No. 1 of Harr's Addition to Midway.
Tract No. 2: A parcel of land situated in the southeast quarter of Section 6, Township 4 North, Range 10 East, in Madison Township, Jefferson County, Indiana, being more particularly described as follows: Beginning at a point which is 1150 feet north and 257.29 feet east of the southeast corner of said section 6; thence east 42.39 feet; thence deflecting 45 degrees and three minutes to the left and continuing a distance of 418.70 feet to a point in the centerline of State Road #7; thence deflecting to the left 90 degrees and forty minutes and continuing along and with the centerline of said State Road #7 a distance of 30 feet; thence deflecting to the left 89 degrees and twenty minutes and continuing a distance of 448.30 feet to the place of beginning, containing in all 0.298 acres, and subject to any legal easements or rights-of-law. (This parcel is Lot #1 in Harr's Addition).

Tract No. 3: Lot No. 2 in Harr's Addition-Midway, and being a part of the southwest quarter of Section 6, Township 4 North, Range 10 East. See Plat Book No. 1, page 4A and 38A, in the Recorder's Office of Jefferson County, Indiana. (hereafter "Real Estate").

This summons by publication is specifically directed to the following defendants who may claim some interest in the Real Estate and whose whereabouts are not known with certainty:

Dewey L. Holman; Deceased; and Heirs-At-Law, Devisees, Legatees, Descendants, Personal Representatives, Executors, Trustees, and Administrators of Dewey L. Holman

You must respond to this summons by publication, by you or your attorney, on or before thirty (30) days after the Third Notice of Suit has been published. If you fail to do so, a default judgment may be entered against you for the relief demanded in the Complaint.

You may be entitled to a settlement conference that will allow you to speak with your mortgage company and discuss alternatives to foreclosure. If you want a settlement conference, you must request it with the court within 30 days after you received this summons.

ATTEST.

Hanover men, women both tied for first in HCAC

Men rout Ravens 78-51 to join tie for HCAC lead

COURIER STAFF REPORT
sports@madisoncourier.com

Hanover men’s basketball rolled over Anderson 78-51 at home on Saturday and moved into a first-place tie atop the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference standings.

The Panthers, now 11-4 overall and 6-2 in the HCAC, are tied with Bluffton (Ohio), Rose-Hulman and Transylvania in first place as the conference schedule nears the halfway point. Bluffton beat Rose 55-49 on Saturday to force the three-way tie.

Hanover held just an 18-17 lead midway through the first half when the Panthers caught fire. Over the next nine-plus minutes, Hanover outscored the Ravens 23-7 to take a 41-24 lead into halftime.

The Panthers cruised from there. Leading 56-41 at the midway point of the second half, Hanover ripped off another big scoring run — this one 22-7 — to put the game away. The Panthers led by as many as 30 late in the contest.

Cam Fails, a senior from Cincinnati, scored 19 points to lead Hanover in scoring for the 13th-straight game. He also had seven assists, four rebounds and four steals in the win.

Kevin Williams was the only other Panther in double figures with 16 points but 11 different players scored for Hanover.

Overall Hanover shot 55 percent (32-of-58) from the floor including 7-of-16 (44 percent) on 3-point attempts and 7-of-11 on free throws (64 percent). Anderson, meanwhile, was just 20-of-49 (41 percent) overall and 1-of-12 (8 percent) on threes.

Maurice Knight scored nine points to lead Anderson (6-9, 5-3 HCAC).

Hanover remains at home on Wednesday when it hosts Mount St. Joseph (Ohio) at Collier Arena. The Lions, typically one of the top programs in the conference, are having an uncharacteristic down year at just 6-9 overall and 4-4 in HCAC play.

Women remain perfect at home with 71-48 win

Hanover women’s basketball extended its win streak to five-straight and remained atop the HCAC standings with a 71-48 win over Anderson at home on Saturday.

The Panthers, now a perfect 6-0 at home this season and winners of 11-straight overall at Collier Arena, used a 14-0 run in the first quarter to take control of the game. Hanover led 23-12 after the first quarter and by as many as 21 in the second en route to a 40-22 cushion at halftime.

Anderson never threatened in the second half and Hanover led by as many as 39 near the end of the third quarter before the Hilltoppers started scoring points in bunches to quickly take over the game.

“We built the lead on our defense and the reason why we got transition was our defense,” Wilkerson said. “We got some steals, we got some deflections, we got some big rebounds and we finally got our wings to run the floor where we could throw it ahead. It puts you in position where you get high percentage looks at the rim. It’s just a matter of getting those guys to play at the effort level to make those things happen and tonight we did it in stretches.”

Shawe quickly built a 15-point lead (44-29) by going on a 21-6 run to open the third but the Hilltoppers couldn’t put the game away. Columbus cut that lead to seven (48-41) by the end of the quarter thanks to a 12-4 closing rally and was still within seven early in the fourth quarter.

Shawe once again cranked up its defense and again pulled away, this time using a 16-4 run to build its largest lead of the settling in for the 23-point win.

Alexis Nall scored 19 points and Maleha Motter had 18 points and 14 rebounds for her 11th double-double of the season to lead Hanover.

But each of the other three starters scored at least eight points with Madison’s Katie Hartman adding nine points and Claire Cromer and Switzerland County’s Brooke Todd scoring eight each. Todd also had six assists.

Overall, Hanover shot 40 percent (29-of-72) from field despite going only 2-of-10 on 3-point attempts. But the Panthers also limited Anderson to just 33 percent (17-of-51) shooting while forcing 30 Raven turnovers.

Lexi Dellinger had 11 points to lead Anderson (8-7, 4-4 HCAC).

The win improves Hanover’s overall record to 11-4 and 7-1 in HCAC play. The Panthers remain tied with Transylvania and Rose-Hulman atop the league standings.

Hanover travels to Mount St. Joseph (Ohio) on Saturday.

night at 66-47 with 3:06 to play. But again Columbus didn’t back down as the Crusaders closed the game on a 13-2 run for the final eight-point margin.

While Shawe shot lights-out in the second half, Columbus (8-11) struggled the entire game. The Crusaders were just 22-for-63 (37 percent) overall from the field, including 5-of-23 (22 percent) from the 3-point arc and 9-of-18 (50 percent) at the free-throw line.

The Hilltoppers, meanwhile, finished at 51 percent (23-for-42) for the game and were a respectable 5-of-13 (39 percent) from behind the arc while going 7-of-8 on free throws.

Neither team took care of the ball with Shawe whistled for 26 turnovers and Columbus 25. The Hilltoppers recored 16 steals to 10 by the Crusaders.

Leon Kinne had arguably his best game as a high schooler, scoring 17 points, grabbing eight rebounds and getting three steals to lead Shawe. Despite foul trouble that limited him to just 20 minutes, Stuart still scored 17 points and had six rebounds while Grote had 16 points, five rebounds and three steals and Chandler Cole had 10 points, eight rebounds, three assists and two steals.

The bulk of Columbus Christian’s scoring was by C.J. Reed and Conner Emily who scored 26 and 20 points, respectively. Emily also had 11 rebounds and three assists while Reed had four steals.

Shawe now has a long break before its next game when the Hilltoppers host Rising Sun on Jan. 25.
